

ed a terrific attack will be launched there for the purpose of capturing Lemberg before an armistice is declared.

On the northern sector, Soviet troops have advanced and have passed the region of Ostrolenka. Cavalry regiments form the extreme tip of the right wing of the advancing Bolshevik line, and here, too, fresh forces are being brought up. Apparently it is planned to carry the drive much nearer this city before Wednesday, the earliest date set by the Soviet plenipotentiaries for reaching an armistice with Poland.

The Bolsheviks, said last night's official statement, "have reached the line running through Kosaki, Masarica, Vysnoki, Koscilna and Cichanowice."

"On the northern front, the line from Ostrolenka to the Prussian frontier is unchanged. In the region of Lomza, the Poles are making a stand against Soviet cavalry, but fresh reinforcements have been thrown into the fight southwest of that city."

Mention of Ostrolenka was the first indication that the Bolsheviks had passed the River Pissa. Ostrolenka is southwest of Lomza.

The feeling in Warsaw is reflected in the fact that all civilian subjects of Great Britain have been ordered to leave Poland before Monday evening. Legations of other foreign countries have come to the same general estimate of the situation, and their people are now being evacuated as speedily as possible.

Word was passed around among Americans here, upon advice from Washington, that those desiring to remain in Warsaw, should it appear the Bolsheviks would take the capital, would do so at their own risk. It was said the American authorities would request their passports, which will be returned afterward if individuals requested them. It was said that the indications were that few, if any Americans would remain, although some naturalized citizens might desire to stay in Warsaw.

Applications for passport visas by persons wishing to leave Warsaw were more than doubled at the American Consulate since the beginning of the Soviet offensive. Consulate employees worked all day Sunday and all night, and today it was stated that upwards of 3,000 visas are passed upon each week. Most of the applicants are women and children who have friends in the United States.

Many of these have previously planned to cross the Atlantic, but the Soviet Bolshevik activity has had a decided tendency to hasten their desire to depart. Many are refugees from districts which a few weeks ago were west of the Polish line but which are now held by the Soviet army.

Crowds jammed the streets near the consulate on Sunday, and extra gendarmes were stationed there to maintain order and to direct traffic to other streets. Lines of applicants during the last few days have extended around the entire block in one direction, and nearly around the adjacent block.

As a war measure, the military authorities have prohibited the sale of alcoholic beverages with the exception of beer in the Warsaw district. This order will stand until revoked and was based on a law passed by the Polish Diet last April. Music in cafes has been prohibited, and many musicians, dancers and artists have come to the front.

Meanwhile, at various distances to the north, northeast and east of the city, the work of building trenches and erecting barbed wire defenses is being carried on with great haste.

FRANCE READY TO RECOGNIZE SOVIET, SAYS MILLERAND

Stipulates Only That Russia Must Pay Debts and Accept Her Former Treaties.

(Copyright, 1920, by The United Press.) PARIS, Aug. 3.—France stands ready to recognize the Bolsheviks this moment they assume the international obligations of the former Russian Government, Premier Millerand declared today in his first interview since the Allied conference at Boulogne.

"This includes," he said, "first, payment of all debts; and second, acceptance of all treaties and observance of all international engagements with the former allies of the Imperial Russian Government."

Premier Millerand's statement was the first official statement of the French government on the subject of diplomatic relations under the new regime. It was the first time that the President in any public expression had definitely committed himself to recognition, narrowing down the conditions to a single, concrete proposition.

"We will naturally expect Moscow to present evidence of the sincerity of her intention to carry out her obligations," the Premier said.

He refused to go into details with regard to the nature of the guarantees, saying: "Thus far Moscow has not made any offer to recognize the engagements of the previous government. You may say from me that we will treat with them politically the instant they fulfill this condition."

Millerand laid stress on the distinction of the present government from the one which was the ally of the United States in the war. He said the United States was the ally of the Russian Empire, and with an expressive gesture of his hand, he said:

"I don't know what the United States policy in Washington undoubtedly is, but I am sure it is not the policy of the United States to draw from European affairs. All I can say is I'm sorry, and hope you will not enter into it."

He said the Premier said, he had received no direct word of the Polish government.

"If they fail to agree," he declared, "France will support Poland to the utmost extent of the present government. Whether French troops will be sent will be determined when the need for making a decision arises."

WILL COX GET RID OF INCOMPETENTS, DEMOCRATS ASK

Apart From League, This Is Reported a Big Feature of Discussion.

TIRED OF BURLERONS.

But Some Conservatives Wonder How Harding Would Satisfy Hungry Job Hunters.

By David Lawrence.

(Special Correspondent of The Evening World.)

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 3.—(Copyright, 1920.)—Nobody could spend very much time on this, the battleground of the Presidential campaign, without gathering some impressions of the way the battle is going.

It may not be pleasant news for the White House, and it may not be palatable for Gov. Cox, but the truth of the matter is that leaving the League of Nations issue aside, the people are eager to know how far the Democratic nominee is obliged to maintain in office incompetent Democrats. Some voters impatiently brush aside what Gov. Cox may promise and regard him as already pledged to perpetuate Wilsonism, but this is most evident in localities where the newspapers have assiduously spread such an impression.

There is a large body of voters, however, who want a housecleaning in Washington and they don't care much who does it. Some feel that Senator Harding and a new party will remove the incompetents from office, but on the other hand one strikes a conservative business man who wonders whether in the process of satisfying the hungry office seekers things might not be turned upside down and competent men driven from office. In other words, there is an element which is not so enthusiastic about change for mere change sake.

MANY ARE TIRED OF THE BURLERONS AND CREELS.

And it is this element as well as the people who are Democrats anyway, but sick and tired of the Burlerons and the Creels—and not altogether happy over Attorney General Palmer's policies—can be reached by Gov. Cox if he makes it very plain that he, too, will do a thorough job of housecleaning if elected.

Unquestionably there is a great deal of interest in Gov. Cox's speech of acceptance. It will be carefully examined, but the thing the people in Ohio would like to hear Gov. Cox say either in his forthcoming address or in subsequent speeches is something like this:

"If elected to office, I shall not retain a single person in the Government service who deserves to be removed and I am under no obligations to retain any Wilson appointees. In fact, I promise an entirely new cabinet, a cabinet of business men and not a cabinet of politicians."

The foregoing thought is expressed in one form or another by voters on every side. It isn't simply bitterness against President Wilson, engendered during party strife, but it is a deep-rooted feeling that the Wilson cabinet should have been long ago renovated and in substituting new members for old, there should have been appointed persons who commanded public confidence.

HARDY WORKERS OPEN FIRE ON OFFICE HOLDERS.

Senator Harding and the workers in his behalf are making excellent headway by pointing to the errors of domestic administration. They do not need to talk much about foreign policies but simply start comparing the relative merits of the Democrats who have held executive positions and the kind of men the Republican Party can assemble. There has been so much discontent—a good deal of it was inevitable as a result of the chaos of war—that where the League of Nations has really made inroads as an issue, the friends of the League are being persuaded that Senator Harding will be all right on that issue anyway and that they had better not take any chances on domestic administration.

Of course, the Democrats haven't got to work yet. There campaign is lagging and they will have interesting things to say concerning the record that the Republicans have made in Congress in the last two years, but he would be a prejudiced observer who did not admit that the Wilson load—entirely apart from the League issue—is a very heavy one, and that Gov. Cox's opportunity lies in making it very clear that he means to draw away from the incompetency of the past and give the country a new deal.

The more he shows his independence of White House rule the more people in these parts, at least, like it. They aren't happy over his visit to Mr. Wilson a few weeks ago. They would have preferred to see him confirm the impression which went out of San Francisco of a triumph over Wilson democracy.

Probably Gov. Cox knew that, but on the other hand he is shrewd enough a politician to keep in mind that the West elected Wilson in 1916, and that the League is a vital question west of the Mississippi River. Some observers think he might just as well forget about the East anyway, with the exception of Ohio, and endeavor to win the election by a combination of the West and solid South.

But in the West, as well as in Ohio, the resentment against the Wilson Administration on domestic affairs runs high, and at this stage of the same overhadows everything else.

Gov. Cox is a resourceful candidate and he knows from contact with his home folks in Ohio that aside from the elements who will never be reconciled to any League of Nations, he can satisfy the demand of the people for reservations that safeguard American freedom of action but that at this point the agreement with the Wilson Administration might happily cease without offending any considerable part of the electorate.

That's the way it looks with the campaign only a month old. The White House may not like it, but Gov. Cox probably is aware of the unpleasant truth. And it would not be a bit surprising to hear him on these currents of opinion before this campaign is concluded. If he does not he may have more trouble carrying Ohio than anybody in his camp believes.

REDS FORM SOVIET IN PART OF POLAND THEY HAVE TAKEN

LONDON, Aug. 3.—A provisional Soviet has been formed in the parts of Poland that have been occupied by Soviet troops, according to a wireless message received here from Moscow today.

Julian Maslowsky is Chairman of the newly formed body, adds the despatch.

The manifesto declares that a stable peace between Russia and Poland is only possible through Soviets of the workers.

U. S. BARRED OWN VETERAN.

Lacey, Who Fought in Indian Wars, Let in for Six Months.

Richard Lacey, seventy-eight, who fought in the United States Army against the Indians fifty years ago, today was admitted to the land he had served after eleven weeks' detention at Ellis Island. When he ended his career as soldier and scout Lacey went back to Ireland, where he remained until this summer. He was held up as an alien likely to become a public charge.

Father Anthony Grogan located Lacey's brother Charles, captain of a Hudson River barge, and a nephew, Peter Caffrey of Newark, and they furnished a bond on which he was admitted for six months. If he remains a year his military record entitles him to citizenship.

Roosevelt's first speech will be in Chicago on August 11. Mr. Roosevelt will speak daily, except Sunday. He will be accompanied by two speakers of national reputation, one a "distinguished and forceful woman speaker of the West," who has not been named.

MINERS PREVENTED FROM DIGGING COAL UNION MAN SAYS

Car Shortage Causes Operators to Suspend—I. C. C. Ruling to Aid New York.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 3.—William Green of the United Mine Workers, today delivered a message to the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, stating that "if there is any suffering during the winter from the shortage of coal it will not be chargeable to the miners, because there is to-day actual suffering among the miners, due to the partial suspension of operation by owners who are unable to get cars enough to ship the output. Mr. Green is a member of the council."

"There are no wage grievances to be presented by the miners to the conference," said Mr. Green. "The scale is satisfactory. The need is more cars for transportation. The men are ready and willing to work to overcome the reported shortage. Some of the men are to-day working on half-time because of over-production at the mouth of the mines. All we ask are cars. We will provide the coal, plenty of it, both anthracite and soft coal."

CUP CHALLENGER OF CANADA IS 74

All His Life Has Been Promoter of Mining and Shipping Industries.

(Special to The Evening World.) MONTREAL, Aug. 3.—Montreal's America Cup challenger is a septuagenarian. A. C. Ross, little known in this city in which he has resided for three years, has been a prominent figure for half a century on the Atlantic seaboard. He is now 74 years old, is still spry and active and dabbling in finance. All his life he has been a promoter. He gathered together the group of mines which was transformed into the Dominion Coal Company. He also organized the Plant Line of steamships from Halifax to Boston.

In politics he was a Liberal and for four years he represented Victoria and North Cape Breton in the Dominion House of Commons. He was also a partner in the Daily Record of Sydney where he resided before coming to Montreal. His son Howard Ross, who came to Montreal from Nova Scotia a few years ago has made his mark as an authority on corporation law.

GOOD LUCK CHARMS ARE SENT TO COX

One Received To-Day Was a Horse-shoe Worn by Lou Dillon.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 3.—Gov. Cox received today a featherweight horse-shoe worn by Lou Dillon when she established the world's trotting record for a mile in 2 m. flat at Readville, Mass., Aug. 24, 1903, and a rabbit's foot from Texas.

W. H. Goober of Hartford, Conn., Secretary of the National Trotting Association, sent the racing menagerie and Decca Lamar West of Waco, Tex., the rabbit's foot, which was mounted handsomely in gold. With the latter came a request that it be worn by the Governor in a convenient pocket, although the donor said there was no guarantee that it was "the left hind foot of a rabbit killed at midnight in a graveyard."

Gov. Cox accepted an invitation from Judge C. R. Latham of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce to speak before that organization in early October.

Work on his correspondence at his newspaper office was halted this morning by the Governor to visit Judge Dennis Dwyer, President of the Ohio Constitutional Convention, who is about 90 years of age and seriously ill.

Another appeal for aid to secure ratification of the Woman Suffrage amendment in Tennessee was made today to Gov. Cox. Mrs. Abbie Scott Baker, political Chairman of the National Woman's Party, brought him reports that unless efforts are increased Tennessee's Legislature would refuse ratification. She will go on a similar mission to Senator Harding.

Mrs. Baker said that after weeks of work and a careful canvass of Tennessee Legislators rejection of the amendment appeared certain.

K. OF C. CONVENTION PLANS 500 FREE SOLDIER SCHOOLS

Delegates Attend Mass and 250 Prepare For Pilgrimage to Metz and Rome.

Delegates to the Supreme Convention of the Knights of Columbus from every State in the Union, from Mexico, Canada, the Philippines, Porto Rico and Cuba, attended the solemn pontifical mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral at 10 o'clock today by which the members of the convention dedicated themselves to the pledges of their order.

The pontifical mass was celebrated with the utmost elaboration. His Excellency, Archbishop John Bonzano, Papal Delegate to Washington, was the celebrant. The Rev. Joseph P. Dineen, secretary to Archbishop Hayes, was Master of Ceremonies. The deacons of honor were the Right Rev. Mgr. George Waring and Mgr. John Dunn, Chancellor of the Archdiocese of New York. The deacon was the Rev. Thomas Pielan of Brewster and sub-deacon the Rev. Edward Rafter. Mgrs. Chidwick, Sullivan, Connolly, Evers and Caddidy were at the altar. The assistant to the celebrant was the Rev. T. J. McGivney and the Metropolitan Catechism was borne by Joseph A. Boyle, sacristan of the cathedral. Archbishop Bonzano was escorted to the altar by the color guard of the Second New York Regiment of Fourth Degree Knights, commanded by Lieut. Col. John L. O'Heils.

The cathedral was filled with about 4,000 members of the order and members of their families. A great multitude waited on the sidewalk during the services.

The Right Rev. John J. Murray, Auxiliary Bishop of Connecticut, preached the sermon, urging the Knights to go on with their stewardship of administering funds collected from the public for the betterment of the minds and working conditions of soldiers and sailors. Mgr. M. C. Lavelle added a few words of commendation and encouragement for the achievements of the order.

The programme of the convention has been shortened because of the sailing Thursday of the Leopolda, which will carry the 250 members of the Knights' pilgrimage to Metz and Rome. The parade from the cathedral to the Hotel Commodore after the altar services was omitted.

The first part of today's session was devoted to the report of Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty, who described the carrying out of plans for reconstructive work among soldiers made before the armistice was signed.

More than 36,000 men have been placed in self-sustaining work, he said, without cost to themselves. Seventy-three schools have been established and before the end of 1920 the Knights will have a total of 200 schools in which the teachers receive salaries greater by 25 percent than those paid in the public schools; in time, he said, the Knights will have a system of 500 night schools free to former soldiers and open to civilians on the payment of a nominal fee.

The report of other supreme officers and a reception by the Papal delegate followed. To-morrow the convention will consider the $70,000 educational programme and will elect national officers. In the afternoon Miss Margaret Anglin will tell the Knights what can be done by their organization for a more educational and uplifting drama.

The gift of the Knights to France, the Lafayette statue to be accepted by Marshal Foch at Metz, is exhibited in replica in the convention hall as are many other objects of interest, such as the $15,000 baton to be presented to Foch and the great memorial volume to be dedicated by the pilgrims to Pope Benedict.

A telegram was received by the convention today from President Deschamps of France saying Marshal Foch, as Chairman of the committee of the French Friends of Liberty had been appointed to meet the Leopolda on his arrival at Metz. He will be accompanied by a number of the pilgrims to Pope Benedict.

Even Civil Disputes and Duties of Coroners—Ulster to Be Excluded.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Duties of Crown tribunals in Ireland will be taken over by courts martial, even to the extent of settling civil disputes, imposition of fines and the binding of accused persons over to keep the peace, under the terms of the new Irish bill which was made public this morning.

Military courts will also take over the duties of coroners, and will have the power to decide cases without jury. In trials for crimes punishable by death, however, one person who need not be an officer shall sit as one of the judges. He must be appointed by the Viceroy from a list approved by the Lord Chancellor of Ireland or the Lord Chief Justice of England.

The courts will be given the power to compel witnesses to attend hearings and enforce orders for the production of documents. Persons convicted by them may be imprisoned in any part of Great Britain.

The bill makes provision for excluding Ulster from the working of the law by stipulating that it shall be effective in the whole or any part of Ireland.

Pictures also were made of him inspecting an edition just as it came from the press while the press was running. Senator Harry S. New of Indiana was included in this picture.
